* To play the melody, you must also play the chord changes, especially the change to and from the 5 chord. This is required because the pitch 7 is melodically different during the 5 chord than elsewhere in the song, and Bandojo automatically makes this change to the Melody Palette when the 5 chord is selected.

This song can also be played using an Alt Minor scale. It will have a slightly different flavor (a lowered 6), but some published arrangements of this song use Minor instead of Dorian.
